

MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEMS QUARTERLY

Table of Contents

SEPTEMBER 1978

Volume 2, Number 3

EDITORIAL PREVIEW	ii
--------------------------------	----

INTERVIEW

Richard Thomas, President, First National Bank of Chicago	1
---	---

APPLICATION

"Information Systems at Inland Steel," John R. Lanahan, Inland Steel Company	5
A practitioner describes the philosophy underlying information systems development in his company.

"Total Customer Relationship," W.R. Synnott, The First National Bank of Boston	15
A description of the background and development of a worldwide, corporate MIS.

"A Management View of Systems Analysts: Failures and Shortcomings," James A. Senn, State University of New York, Binghamton	25
A discussion of some of the reasons for problems, as well as insights to improve the situation in the working relationship between the user and the analyst.

THEORY AND RESEARCH

"Development Patterns for Decision Support Systems," Steven Alter, Consultant	33
Examples from a case-oriented survey of fifty-six decision support systems are cited to illustrate each of four implementation patterns observed in the sample.

"Evaluating Management Information Systems," William R. King, University of Pittsburgh and Jaime I. Rodriguez, MASECA Industrial Group	43
An MIS evaluation framework is provided and its application to a strategic planning information system is described.

FROM OUR READERS	53
-------------------------------	----